Movahedi Solutions is the operating name of 1000823315 ONTARIO INC., based in Mississauga, Ontario, Canada.

These terms apply to an engagement with Movahedi Solutions, together with the written agreement for that engagement. Where these terms and the written agreement for an engagement differ, the written agreement for that engagement governs.

Scope agreed before work starts

The scope of work for an engagement is agreed in writing before work starts. Work outside the agreed scope is not carried out unless a change to the scope is agreed in writing.

Rate, term, and payment

The rate for an engagement is agreed in writing for the engagement.
The term of an engagement is agreed in writing for the engagement.
Payment terms for an engagement are agreed in writing for the engagement.

No rate, term, or payment figure is stated in these terms, because each is set for the engagement in its written agreement.

Controls and handover

The controls that apply to an engagement, and the handover at the end of an engagement, are stated in the written agreement for that engagement. Handover includes the return or delete of client material, on the client's instruction, as set out in the Privacy Notice for Engagements.

Security, screening, and insurance requirements

Any specific security requirement, screening requirement, or insurance requirement that applies to an engagement is confirmed in writing before work starts. No such requirement is assumed from these terms alone. Where a client requires a specific provision on security, screening, or insurance, that provision is written into the agreement for the engagement before work starts.

Changes

A change to scope, rate, term, payment, controls, or handover is agreed in writing before the changed work is carried out.

Client material

Client material is used only for the engagement it was provided for, as set out in the Privacy Notice for Engagements. A client is not named as a client, in any public material or in any reference, without the client's written permission.
